This packet contains all of the work you are expected to complete during our Seedfolks unit. Be sure to read the directions for each step completely and to keep up with your work. Budget your time carefully, as you must keep up with other class assignments (such as vocabulary) as well as assignments in this unit.

Directions for your character chart: As you read Seedfolks, complete the chart on the following page to track each character’s distinct background and purpose for coming to the garden. This assignment will be collected upon completion of the novel. It will be graded on completeness and is worth 20 points.

PAUL FLEISCHMAN’S “SEEDFOLKS” IS AN AWARD-WINNING BOOK.
As an ongoing assignment, respond in your journal to the prompts provided here. You need to address each question in your response, but you are certainly encouraged to journal about other thoughts you have as you read each chapter. Ideas for journaling include discussing characters and events in the novel. Be certain you include at least one quote or example from the chapter to support your thinking. Your response should be a minimum of 5 sentences. Each entry must be labeled by number and name with the date you wrote it. Expect occasional journal check-ins worth 5 points each.

"FILL YOUR PAPER WITH THE BREATHINGS OF YOUR OWN HEART." — WILLIAM WORDSWORTH

DAILY PROMPTS

#1
Spend time writing in your journal about the meaning of this statement. Be prepared to share your writing with the class.

“We have a notion in our community that unless you know where you come from and where you are going, you'll never get anywhere. That’s an old adage, but you need to know where you come from. You need that bridge to cross over. If you don’t know where it is, you’re going to be in trouble.”

— Pastor Frances A. Davis

#2 (Kim)
What words come to mind when you hear the word community? Create a word web for the word community.

#3 (Ana)
People in a neighborhood always get along.
- What keeps neighbors from getting along?
- Do you know all of your neighbors? Which ones do you get along with best?

#4 (Wendell & Gonzalo)
Making a difference in your community or neighborhood is always easy.
- Is it always easy to make a difference in your community?
- What are some obstacles to making a difference?
- What would it take to make a difference in your community?

#5 (Sae Young)
Nature is a way for people to be drawn together.
- How does nature draw people together? How can nature pull people apart?
- Do you like to be in nature?
- Is nature peaceful?

#6 (Sae Young)
Good things that happen in one part of the world seldom affect things that are going on in another part of the world.
- Does what happens in your neighborhood affect what happens in your school?
- Does what you eat for lunch affect how you feel for the rest of the day?
- Does the news from around the world affect what happens in your community?

#7 (Maricela & Amir)
People who do good deeds always know whom they affect.
- What are some good things that you do that other people might not notice?
- Name the most recent nice things that someone did for you.
- Have you been affected by someone who didn’t know that he or she was affecting you?

#8 (Florence)
Difference can be good.
- Do you have friends who are completely different than you?
- What can you learn from people who are different than you?
You will answer the following questions, using complete sentences, on Edmodo to participate in an online discussion of the chapter with your classmates. You may answer on this sheet if you do not have access to the Internet. These entries are graded homework assignment worth 5 points each.

“SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE STUDIED TO GAIN KNOWLEDGE NOT TO GAIN GRADES.”
— UDAYVEER SINGH

For your final project for this unit, you have two choices: 1) to create a character poster or 2) to write a poem. Read the two options carefully and choose one. Your project is due on Tuesday, October 6th. You must ready to share your project with others at the beginning of class.

"AN ESSENTIAL ASPECT OF CREATIVITY IS NOT BEING AFRAID TO FAIL."

   - Head
   - Mouth
   - Body
   - Heart
   - Hands
   - Feet
2. Include the following in each part:
   Head: Thoughts and ideas your character has
   Mouth: Important things the character says
   Body: Physical descriptions of your character
   Heart: Things that the character loves
   Hands: What the character contributes to the garden
   Feet: Where the character is from or would like to go
3. Around the character: Things that others say about your character
4. Due on Tuesday, Oct. 6th.

A Found Poem is the literary equivalent of a collage. The poet takes existing pieces of text and rearranges them to form a poem. The reorganization is not random. While the order of words/passages may be changed from the order in which they appear in the actual text, the words and passages themselves remain intact.

Directions

1. Choose a character and reread that chapter. Highlight words and phrases that have an emotional impact on you, or that create vivid images in your mind, or that you admire because of the author’s style.
2. Carefully re-read the words and phrases you have highlighted and select the ones you want in your poem.
3. Organize the words and phrases in such a way that a new meaning is revealed.
4. Punctuate lines as you would like. You may change the tenses, possessives, plurals.
5. Cut everything that is dull or that does not help express your overall meaning.
6. Pay attention to line breaks and layout, as this is a way to emphasize significant words and ideas, and also to add a rhythm if you want your poem to have one.
7. Play with font style and size, make words bold or italics. You may add a picture or alter the paper accordingly. Be able to explain why you did what you did.
8. Poems are to be a minimum of 10 lines and 50 words long and must be typed written.
9. Due on Tuesday, Oct. 6th.
